11 Foods That Move Some of Chicago's Top Women Chefs

BY F&W EDITORS | POSTED FEBRUARY 19, 2015 AT 6:43PM EST

Here's a cool new initiative that all #FOODWINEWOMEN should know about: COOKGIRL launched in January to promote and support women who are helping to make the gender bias in the kitchen evaporate. Starting with an initial list of 100 of the best chefs, restaurateurs, entrepreneurs and sommeliers in the country, CG set in place six initiatives to honor women in the culinary arts. A portion of these proceeds will go to COOKGIRL Fund, which will provide grants to three outstanding females in the field in 2016.

Last night, COOKGIRL launched THE

COOKGIRL was featured in an article on Food & Wine's website and promoted on their social media sites, driving users to cookgirl.com and generating:

- 220+ Facebook likes
- 50+ Facebook shares
- 100+ Tweets and retweets
- 20+ Instagram posts
